

WORKSHOP AND FIELD SEMINAR CREATING A SCIENTIFIC DOCUMENTARY FOR THE GENERAL PUBLIC

Learn every step of creating a scientific documentary for the general public, guided by experts in scientific communication and video production.

OBJECTIVES

- Discover the importance of science communication in promoting your research and advancing your academic career.
- Learn and apply all the steps involved in creating a science outreach video.
- Produce a short video focused on Mount Salève, exploring its geology, its history, and the deep connection it shares with the people of the Geneva region..

OUTCOMES

- Master the art of communicating your research through video.
- Get hands-on experience with video equipment and video editing software.
- Learn how to convey the scientific method and make science exciting to educate and raise awareness of specific scientific issues.

JUNE 16, 2026

UNIVERSITY OF GENEVA

Lecture: How to convey complex scientific concepts to a general audience

Preparation of a storyboard

JUNE 17-18, 2026

MOUNT SALÈVE, FRANCE

Capture all the footage to create the video

JUNE 19, 2025

UNIVERSITY OF GENEVA

Video editing on DaVinci Resolve

MORE DETAILS AND REGISTRATION HERE
10 PLACES AVAILABLE

